Strategic Goal 3 : Knowledge management and sharing

Transparency and sound communication in an early stage can build trust in the system and facilitate contributions and cooperation across different sections of society. Communication and engagement with civil society and the public through mechanisms for active encouragement and transparent decision making process.

Strategic tools and methodologies for supported decision-making. Public health communication strategy on national priority issues, as well as promoting (individual, social, and political) changes that lead to achievement and maintenance of health.

Strategic communications

Social participation

Knowledge Processes

knowledge management and sharing policies, processes, infrastructure, tools and skills strengthening as part of a learning organization framework.

Knowledge management methodologies and mechanisms to improve decision-making, capture, share and measure organizational knowledge.

Knowledge architecture

Networks

The academic and scientific communities contribute to research and producing new knowledge in health

Academia & scientific community

Different types of networks implemented, such as: strategic and diplomatic networks of relations, thematic and knowledge networks, and social networks for community engagement